Corporate Workshop in

Storyboarding for eLearning

Learn More about this Workshop at <http://creativeagni.com/cw/sbel>

Storyboarding is a tightrope walk that can succeed only if it is done methodically. Every element of the storyboard exists for a reason and must be presented in a particular way. Anything that goes off-balance would result in developmental chaos.

Poorly done Storyboards = Chaos Everywhere!

A properly made storyboard results in:
higher productivity, reduced errors, smooth processes,
a happy content team, and eventually a satisfied audience.

For an organization this means two things:

1. Reduced Costs and
2. Happy clients leading to Repeat Business.

The 2-Day Storyboarding for eLearning (SBEL) program by Creative Agni® ensures that its participants become capable of creating storyboards using the industry-standard methods and ensuring that the other stakeholders of the eLearning development process find their storyboards easy to understand and work with.

The participants of this workshop will be able to visualize and write storyboards that harness the eLearning medium's potential and result in effective eLearning courses. This program makes the audience confident about their storyboarding skills, reduces their errors, and improves their productivity and efficiency by leaps and bounds.
